Basis of taxation

Cyprus tax residents are taxed on all income accrued or derived from all sources in Cyprus and abroad. Non-tax residents are only taxed on their income accrued or derived from sources in Cyprus.

An individual is tax resident in Cyprus if he spends in Cyprus more than 183 days in any one year. With effect as from 1 January 2017 the "60 day rule" in addition to the "183 day rule" for tax resident individuals of Cyprus was voted on 14/07/2017. Under this law, an individual will be considered as tax resident of Cyprus if the individual satisfies either the "183 day rule" or the "60 day rule".

The "60 day rule" applies to individuals who in the relevant tax year

- (i) reside in Cyprus for one or more periods which add up to at least 60 days and
- (ii) do not reside in any other State for a period exceeding 183 days in aggregate and
- (iii) are not tax resident of another state and
- (iv) have other defined Cyprus ties. To satisfy this condition the individual must carry out any business in Cyprus and/or be employed in Cyprus and/or hold an office (director) of a company tax resident in Cyprus at any time in the tax year, provided that such is not terminated before the end of the tax year and
- (v) the individual must maintain in the tax year a permanent residential property in Cyprus which is either owned or rented by the individual

Days in and out of Cyprus are calculated as follows:

- (a) The day of departure from Cyprus counts as a day of residence outside Cyprus.
- (b) The day of arrival in Cyprus counts as a day of residence in Cyprus.
- (c) Arrival and departure from Cyprus in the same day counts as one day of residence in Cyprus.
- (d) Departure and arrival in Cyprus in the same day counts as one day of residence outside Cyprus.

The New equity and notional interest deduction for Cyprus Companies (NID)

According to the amending law, companies resident in Cyprus or companies not resident in Cyprus with a permanent establishment in Cyprus can claim a notional interest deduction (NID) in respect of new equity.

New equity introduced to the company can take the form of cash or assets in kind and used to finance business assets.

NID is calculated by multiplying the "new equity" with the "reference interest rate".

For the purposes of the Law:

- "Reference interest Rate" means the yield rate of the 10 year government bonds of the Country where the funds are employed increased by 3 percentage points, with a minimum rate of return the 10 year government bonds of the Republic, increased by 3 percentage points as at 31 December of the year preceding the tax year.
- «new equity" means the equity which has been introduced in the company on or after January 1, 2015, but which do not include amounts that have been capitalized and are derived from the revaluation of movable or immovable securities
- «Old equity" means the equity that existed on December 31, 2014
- «equity» means the issued share capital and share premium from the issue of shares to the extent that they have been paid.

Capital is not considered as new equity, if the funds that have been introduced in the company on or after January 1, 2015 which directly or indirectly relate to the reserves outstanding as at December 31, 2014 and are not related to new assets used in the business.

The Cyprus Intellectual Property (IP) regime

The provisions of the existing IP regime will continue to apply until 30 June 2021 in relation to the following IP assets:

- (i) Existing IP assets (i.e. IP assets qualifying under the current provisions of the Cyprus IP regime as at 2nd January 2016);
- (ii) IP assets acquired (directly or indirectly) from related parties, during the period from 2nd January to 30th June 2016, provided that such IP assets would have been eligible to qualify under the provisions of the current Cyprus IP regime or a similar IP regime; and
- (iii) IP assets acquired from a non-related party or developed during the period from 2nd January to 30th June 2016.

The current provisions of the Cyprus IP regime will expire on 31st December 2016 for IP assets acquired either directly or indirectly from related parties during the period from 2nd January to 30th June 2016 if such assets have not been eligible to claim the current provisions of the Cyprus IP regime or a similar IP regime as per (ii) above.

Qualifying IP assets

The changes restrict qualifying IP assets to patents, computer software and other intangible assets which are legally protected and cover utility models, intangible assets that grant protection to plants and genetic material, orphan drug designations, extensions of patent protections as well as IP assets which are non-obvious, useful and novel and from which the income of a taxpayer does not exceed, in a 5 year period, €7.500.000 per annum (€50.000.000 for taxpayers forming part of a Group).

According to the new regime, qualifying intangible asset means an asset which was acquired, developed or exploited by a person in the course of carrying on a business and which constitutes intellectual property, other than marketing related intellectual property associated with promotion (marketing) and which is the result of research and development activities, including intangible asset for which there is only economic ownership.

Corporation Tax

The modified nexus approach

According to the “modified nexus approach”, there should be sufficient substance and an essential nexus between the expenses, the IP assets and the related IP income in order to benefit from a patent box regime. Under the nexus approach, the application of an IP regime should be dependent on the level of Research and Development (R&D) activities carried out by the qualified taxpayer.

The following formula has been introduced to determine the qualifying profits that can benefit from an IP regime under BEPS:

$$\text{Overall IP Income } x \frac{(\text{Qualifying expenditure} + \text{Up-lift expenditure})}{\text{Total expenditure}}$$

Qualifying expenditure, excludes the R&D costs of outsourcing to related parties, contrary to the cost of outsourcing to unrelated parties which are considered as part of “qualifying expenditure”. In addition, the amendments provide for a maximum 30% up-lift of “qualifying expenditure”, thus allowing qualified taxpayers to include all or part of non-qualifying R&D costs to be included as part of the “qualifying expenditure”.

Qualifying expenditure includes but is not limited to salary and wages, direct costs, general expenses and commission associated with R&D activities and R&D expenditure outsourced to unrelated parties. It does not include the acquisition cost of a specific intangible asset, interest paid or payable, costs that are not associated with a specific qualified asset and expenditure relating to the acquisition or construction of immovable property.

Taxable amount

Under the current IP regime, 80% of the net profit from the exploitation of IP is exempt from taxation. Net profit is calculated after deducting from the IP income all direct expenses associated with the production of the income, as well as capital allowances at a rate of 20%.

1. Shipping companies

The Merchant Shipping (Fees & Taxing Provisions) Law was enacted in May 2010 and introduces a new tonnage tax system in Cyprus, applicable as from the fiscal year 2010.

Why is this significant development for the shipping industry?

The new tonnage tax system contains most of the favourable features found in tonnage tax systems in other EU countries, and more. The system, therefore, provides Cyprus with a competitive advantage and is expected to significantly contribute to the improvement of the already strong position of the country in the shipping world.

The main provisions of the new tonnage tax system are described below.

The tonnage tax system is available to any Owner, charterer or ship manager who

Owens, charters or manages a

Qualifying ship in a

Qualifying shipping activity.

The tonnage tax is calculated on the net tonnage of the ship according to a broad range of bands and rates prescribed in the legislation. The rates applicable to ship managers are 25% of those applied for ship owners and charterers.

Towage, dredging and cable laying are also eligible for tonnage tax.

Value Added Tax

Value Added Tax

Value Added Tax

VAT is imposed on the provision of goods and services in Cyprus, as well as on the acquisition of goods from the European Union and the importation of goods into Cyprus.

Taxable persons charge VAT on their taxable supplies (output tax) and are charged with VAT on goods or services which they receive (input tax).

If output tax in a VAT period exceeds total input tax, a payment has to be made to the state. If input tax exceeds output tax at the excess input tax is carried forward as a credit and set off against future output VAT.

A payment is due from the state according to the following criteria:

- a period of three years has elapsed since the date the VAT became refundable (reduced to one year as from 1/1/2015 and eight months as from 1/1/2016);
- input VAT which cannot be set off against output VAT until the last VAT period of the year which follows the year in which the VAT period in which the credit was created falls;
- the input VAT relates to zero rated transactions;
- the input VAT relates to the purchase of capital assets of the company;
- the input VAT relates to transactions which are outside the scope of VAT but would have been subject to VAT had they been carried out within Cyprus;
- the input VAT relates to exempt financial and insurance services provided to non EU resident clients (services for which the right to recover the related input VAT is granted).

With regard to intra-community acquisitions the trader does not pay VAT on receipt of the goods in Cyprus but instead he accounts for VAT using acquisition accounting method. This involves a simple accounting entry in the books of the business whereby it self-charges VAT and at the same time claims it back, if it relates to supplies for which the right to recover input vat is granted, thereby creating no cost to the business.

In cases the acquisition relates to a transaction for which the right to recover the input vat is not granted, the trader must pay the VAT that corresponds to the acquisition.

On 1 January 2010, a number of important VAT rules came into force following the implementation of various EU Directives and Regulations mainly concerning the supply rules for services.

The most important changes were the following:

- Place of supply of services rules. It is taxed where the customer is established if the customer is a taxable person (B2B) or where the supplier is situated (B2C) if the customer is a non - taxable person. Services provided to third countries are outside the scope of Cyprus or EU VAT.
- There are new "time of supply" rules when the reverse charge liability is accounted for and when a transaction is to be included on the VIES form.
- Exempt and partly exempt businesses, such as banks and insurance companies, receiving services from abroad face extra vat cost.
- A new electronic procedure for the refund of the VAT paid in another EU member state (8th Directive).
- Businesses are required to complete and submit a declaration for intra-community supply of services (the VIES) which are taxed under the reverse charge provisions in another MS.

Value Added Tax

The following are taxed at the place of consumption.

Property related services, transportation of goods, passenger transportation, short – term hiring of means of transport, restaurant and catering services, scientific and educational services, sporting and cultural services.

As from 1 January 2011 changes came into effect in the EU and Cypriot VAT legislation with regards to the country of taxation of cultural, artistic, sporting, scientific, educational, entertainment and similar services including services of organisers of such activities, supplied between businesses (B2B).

Up to 31 December 2010 the above services, were subject to VAT in the country where those activities were physically carried out.

As from 1 January 2011, only admission to such activities is subject to VAT in the country where the activities are physically carried out. Services, other than the admission to such events, are subject to VAT in the country where the recipient of the services has established his business.

Value Added Tax

Vat on immovable property (2/1/2018)

The Cyprus House of Representatives voted on 03 November 2017 a new VAT Law. It was published in the Official Gazette of the Republic of Cyprus on 13 November 2017 and comes into force on 2 January 2018.

The new law introduces VAT at the standard rate for the sale of building land and the leasing/rental of business premises as per the conditions included in the law. It also introduces the reverse charge mechanism for VATable supplies of land and property under a loan restructuring/force-sale arrangement, which will mostly impact financial institutions.

- 1. Imposition of vat at standard rate of 19% on building land as from 2 January 2018 on the transfers of non developed land which is intended to be used for the construction of building / structures in the course of carrying out a business activity. No vat will be imposed on the purchase or sale of land located in a livestock zone or areas which are not intended for development such as zones / areas of environmental protection, archaeological and agricultural.
- 2. Vat on leasing of immovable property (land and commercial buildings, other than residential buildings) when used by lessee in making taxable supplies. the lessor has the right to opt not to impose vat on the specific property. the option is irrevocable.
- 3. Introduction of Reverse Charge Provision on transfers resulting from loan restructuring or forced transfer of property to lender. These transfers are normally made without any payment by the bank to the taxpayer. The transaction creates a vat liability that the tax payer clearly would not be in a position to pay. for this reason, the article 11D to the main VAT law is introduced transferring the obligation to discharge the vat in such situations from the tax payer to the recipient (the bank). The provisions apply to immovable property including land and / or buildings that are transferred along with the land in which they are build on, provided that the transaction takes place before the occupation of the building. This law will remain in force for a limited period, currently being until 31/12/2019.

International Business Companies (IBCs)

This refers to supply of goods between EU Member States and their VAT treatment. The sale is taxed at zero rate if the following criteria are satisfied:

- The seller maintains adequate evidence that the goods have been transferred to that Member State.

With regard to intra-community acquisitions the trader does not pay VAT on the receipt of the goods in Cyprus but instead accounts for VAT using acquisition accounting. This involves a simple accounting entry in the books of the business whereby he self-charges VAT and at the same time claims it back if it related to taxable supplies thereby creating no cost to the business (reverse charge rule).

(b) Triangular trade

This is the case where three Member States are involved and there is only one actual movement of goods but two invoices are issued, one from the first country to the intermediary and another from the intermediary to the recipient of goods. Trusts

Trusts

Trusts

A trust is established by an individual "the settlor" and is a means whereby one or more persons "the Trustees" hold property "the Trust Property" for the benefit of another or others "the Beneficiaries" or for specified purposes.

Trusts have traditionally been very important tax planning devices. Even today, a very high proportion of tax saving schemes involves trusts.

International trusts

The International Trusts Law of Cyprus governs international trusts. International Trusts are not taxed in Cyprus. In fact, Cyprus International Trusts enjoy important tax advantages, providing significant tax planning possibilities. The following advantages are indicative of the possible options for tax minimisation.

- All income, whether trading or otherwise, of an International Trust (ie a Trust whose property is located and income is derived from outside Cyprus) is not taxable in Cyprus.
- Dividends, interest or other income received by a Trust from a Cyprus international business company are neither taxable nor subject to withholding tax.
- Gains on the disposal of the assets of an international Trust are not subject to capital gains tax in Cyprus.
- An alien who creates an International Trust in Cyprus and retires in Cyprus is still exempt from tax if all the property settled and the income earned is abroad, even if he is a beneficiary.
- The assets of an international trust are not subject to estate duty in Cyprus.
- Trusts are usually used by wealthy individuals for the purpose of protecting their estate from inheritance or capital gains taxes in their home country. They can also be used by expatriates settling into a trust before repatriating, assets acquired while working abroad, to protect such assets from the tax net of their home country.
